A lot of bikes will get you there. A Yamaha will get you back.

When you're in the middle of nowhere, the last thing you want to think about is getting back.

That's why the first thing you want to think about is a Yamaha Enduro.

Just about any motorcycle enthusiast will tell you the Yamaha is the most reliable machine around. On the road, or off.

See your Yamaha dealer. He has six different machines for the man who wants to get to the end of the road and keep on going. All street legal, and all built to take you wherever you want to go, and bring you back.

That is, if you want to come back.

Someday,
you'll own a Yamaha.
